Benefits Of Himalayan Salt

Himalayan pink salt is a pink-colored salt extracted from the salt mines, which is located near the foothills of the Himalayas in Pakistan. Himalayan salt is the purest salt on earth it has 84 trace minerals. The Himalayan pink salt planted from this mine is supposed to have been formed millions of years ago from the evaluation of ancient bodies of water.

Himalayan pink salt was formed over 250 million years ago during the Jurassic era. It is found naturally, within the Himalayan mountains and has been contemplating a valuable flavor for many centuries. The ancient sea beds inside these Mountains, where this salt is tunneled were once hidden by lava. The lava established a biological barrier that has deterred toxins and other adulterants from attaining the salt. Because of this biological preservation, several people assume that Himalayan pink salt is the purest salt on earth.
